RESOLUTE LEADS IN DRIFTING CONTEST

YACHTS IN RACE AGAINST TIME LIMIT

Sir Thomas Optimistic

ABOARD STEAM YACHT VICTORIA, OFF SANDY HOOK, July 26.—(By Wireless to The Associated Press)—British residents of Tasmania and the Samoan and Fiji Islands today added their good wishes to those received by Sir Thomas Lipton, on the morning of the final cup race of 1920, from all parts of the world.

An addition was also made today to Sir Thomas's mascots. It was an old prize of the yacht America which originally won the cup at the Isle of Wight in 1851.

Sir Thomas was optimistic today.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 26.—At 1:45 o'clock this afternoon there was little prospect that the fifth yacht race of 1920 for the American cup between Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's Challenger and Resolute, the American defender, could be finished within the time limit. With scarcely a breath of air wafting across the race course, the race had developed into a drifting contest. Resolute had a mile and half lead with little chance of finishing within the time limit which expires at 6:30 p. m.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 26.—Resolute IV, the big green sloop with which Sir Thomas Lipton hopes today to lift the America's cup, sped first across the line today at the start of the 22nd international yacht race which will decide the 1920 series.

Shamrock crossed nearly a minute ahead of Resolute according to unofficial timing ashore.

SHAMROCK LEADS AT START

Starting on the first 15 mile leg of the 22nd mile course, a run south by east half west out to sea, Shamrock passed over the starting line at 12:30:22, 25th time, and her rival followed at 12:31:25, after the starting signal had been sounded at 12:30.

The results committee announced the following course for the fifth and last leg of the race.

A 15 mile run from the Andrews Channel light ship, south by west half east with a 15 mile beat back to the light ship.

Fans Dely Chilly Brevers

Despite chilly breezes, several thousand spectators were aboard the tugboat tugboat, private yachts and small craft of all description for the race.

While the crews were not as large as last Saturday, there was a lot of enthusiasm about.

Because of the slight breeze in the spring tides were much more in evidence than duck tenses. As for the tenses, heavy sweaters and light sport coats took the place of the heavier summer frocks.

At 1:45 when the yachts had passed the light ship, Shamrock had increased her lead slightly.

Resolute Passes Shamrock

At 2:10 Resolute passed Shamrock on her way to the outer mark and was leading a better breeze.

At 2:40, with the breeze reaching 5 m. the Jersey shore, Resolute was 100 yards ahead and 100 yards to

U. S. Interns Jap Picture Brides Until Records Are Investigated

Coincident with the investigation of the Japanese question in California by the special congressional committee, forty Japanese "picture brides" arrived in San Francisco on the Japanese liner, Sinyo Maru. They are here to meet their future husbands, whose names they have already adopted. They are being interned at Angel Island while their records are being investigated. "Picture brides" are so called because they have been selected as brides by Japanese men who have never seen them, but were guided in their choice solely by photographs.

Los Angeles Awakened By Quake

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 26.—A sharp earthquake shock woke Los Angeles at 4:13 this morning. A few chimneys were knocked down, dishes broken and windows rattled.

A second and much lighter shock was felt in Los Angeles at 8:53 a. m.

Cox Notification Ceremonies To Be Held At Montgomery County Fair Grounds Aug. 7

DAYTON, O., July 26.—Tough drafting of his address accepting the Democratic party's nomination for president was the immediate task today of Governor Cox, following completion of major plans for the notification ceremonies August 7. These, it has been decided, will be at the Montgomery county fair grounds. In this city, instead of at Tallmadge, the governor's home, in order to accommodate crowds expected.

Although Governor Cox had many important features of his address outlined mentally, he had on his desk today formidable piles of data, including many volunteer suggestions, to digest. He planned to look himself in his library, and, if possible, send his address to the printer by next Friday. The only interruption expected by Governor Cox in work on his address was a conference today or tomorrow with Senator Tomerson of Ohio, a member of the senate political committee investigating committee regarding confidence of its inquiry.

The governor yesterday saw James W. Gerard, of New York, former ambassador to Germany, who promised to campaign vigorously, and told the governor that the west was a particularly favorable field.

Woman's Body Washed Ashore

CLEVELAND, O., July 26.—Police today were trying to identify the body of a woman washed ashore on the lake front late last night. The body was found only in a ruffled skirt and one shoe, and these are the only clues to her identity. The body was that of a girl about 25 years old and had been in the water for several weeks, police believe. There were no marks of violence on the body, so far as police were able to determine.

Peace Parley In London Between Bolsheviki And Allied Governments Planned

LONDON, July 26.—Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons today, confirmed reports that the Russian Soviet government had sent the British government a note accepting Great Britain's proposal for a peace conference in London between the Soviet government and the powers engaged in hostile action against the Soviets or supporting such action.

Mr. Lloyd George said the Soviet had also suggested that representatives of the leading powers attend the conference. The premier added that Great Britain was conferring with her allies on the subject.

U. S. Will Not Take Part

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(By The Associated Press)—Participation by the United States in any conference of representatives of Russia and the allied governments looking to the restoration of peace between Poland and the Soviet government was regarded here as impossible but most officials declined to discuss the matter. President Wilson is understood to be keeping in close personal touch with the new European crisis and the question of American participation in the proposed conference will be for his determination.

The only official information the state department had today was as to what plans were in progress regarding the time and place of the conference between the Russian and Polish representatives.

LONDON, July 26.—(By The Associated Press)—Premier Lloyd George will meet Premier Millerand of France at Boulogne, tomorrow (Tuesday) to discuss the Russian proposal that the allies hold a conference with the Russian Soviet government.

As viewed here, the Soviet government has seized the allied demand for an armistice with Poland as a pretext for a return to the original Soviet campaign for official recognition of the Moscow government and political circles in Paris regard the maneuver as a skillful one which has placed some of the allies, particularly France, in a delicate position.

France has not ceased to consider the Soviet government as an irregular one, not supported by the free will of the people and consequently it has resisted all action with reference to Russia that might even remotely be considered as recognition. It is pointed out that Premier Lloyd George spoke for the allies, however, when he commended with the Soviet authorities, demanding that they stop the forward movement on the Polish frontier and asking them to arrange an armistice to be followed by a conference of delegates from all the countries bordering on Russia.

4,000 Carloads Of Coal Daily For Northwest

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Relief from coal shortage—both actual and threatened—for New England and the northwest, was in sight today. The interstate commerce commission today issued an order for priority of movement in the shipment of coal to New England states while railroads under a recent order of the commission, began to move coal to lake ports for transshipment to the northwest.

A score of railroads will attempt to dump 4,000 carloads daily at lake ports for shipment to the northwest, the coal coming from Bituminous mines in western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The American Olympic Team Sails Today

NEW YORK, July 26.—America's Olympic team which sails on the transport Princess Matoika for Antwerp late this afternoon, was given a farewell reception here today. A majority of the athletic stars, who have been training at Fort Schuylkill under the direction of Head Coach Jack Mackay of Cornell, mingled through the streets to the Manhattan area house for the formal "send off" ceremonies.

The team is composed of 105 track and field men; 18 swimmers, 21 wrestlers, 22 boxers, 29 fencers and 8 bicyclists.

The Princess Matoika will arrive in Antwerp about August 1, allowing the athletes more than a week in which to become conditioned.

Turks May Not Ratify Treaty After Signing

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—(By The Associated Press)—Since the departure of Turkey's peace delegates for Paris with instructions to sign the treaty the means of ratification have been eagerly discussed in Constantinople.

Under the Turkish constitution, the chamber of deputies must ratify treaties. That is impossible under the present circumstances as a majority of the chamber is composed of Nationalists, many of whom are in Ankara. There is no legal way for the Sultan to ratify another chamber.

Wounded Ex-Soldiers Woo Fame As Artists

Wounded in the war in such manner as to render impossible the pursuit of their old vocations, these ex-soldiers are studying art at Uncle Sam's expense. The photo was taken a few days ago on the Lorriland Spencer estate. The young men are under the instruction of Mort Burger.

KILLS CHUM BECAUSE SHE WORE PRETTY CLOTHES

LEXINGTON, KY., July 26.—Alice Hammonk, a pretty mountain girl, was killed near here yesterday, a victim of jealousy. It was not another "trivial triangle." No man was involved.

Goldie Sturgill, another mountain girl, and a chum of Alice, shot her three times, fatally wounding her, because she was jealous of Alice's clothes. The shooting occurred after Goldie had lured her victim far into the mountains.

She has been arrested.

Will Not Recall Irish Bill

LONDON, July 26.—The British government has no intention of withdrawing the government of Ireland bill, Premier Lloyd George stated in the house of commons today. It would press the measure forward with all possible speed when the house reassembled after the holiday recess, he added.

AGED PRACTITIONER ILL

SPRINGFIELD—Dr. Isaac Jay, 81, said to be the oldest medical practitioner in Ohio, is seriously ill at his home here.

Business Conditions Continue To Improve; Propaganda Of Pessimism Only Mischievous

CLEVELAND, O., July 26.—There is excessive earnings of the last five years, nothing fundamentally wrong with the war period, is maintained. Business conditions, which continue to improve, and the propaganda of pessimism, which has been talk of depression and more spreading during the last few months, are in the general situation. While it is ill-timed and mischievous, propaganda there has perhaps been no appreciable to the monthly business review of the lessening of the credit strain, there is no federal reserve bank made public, certainly have been indications at the treasury.

With the passing of unusual credit chief among these is the attitude of this machine is more natural than a people generally against a continuation to a normal business basis, the flow of high prices, which has been a statement says, pointing out that to be forced in the liquidation of commodity prices, propounding that it is not a crisis and a consequent lowering of the necessary that the large profits and excessive level.

Cleavers, Knives, Flatirons, Clubs, And Rocks Are Used On Troopers

NEW YORK, July 26.—Twenty-seven negroes, inmates of the State Reformatory for Women at Bedford, again crashed their way out of a cottage in which they were confined today, and when in a pitched battle with ten state troopers placed as guards over them, injured a number of the men. The women used flat irons, cleavers, knives, clubs and rocks as weapons.

It was only after a ten-hour search through surrounding woods that all the negroes had been rounded up, recaptured and placed under a heavy guard in the guard house.

Scarcely one of the state troopers against whom the attack was launched escaped injury. Many of them were burned with the hot flat irons, or struck on the head with clubs and bricks as they attempted to restrain the women.

Trouble at the reformatory was started Saturday afternoon, when two white inmates were ordered to work in a laundry, where all other workers were negroes. The two refused to work with the negroes and a race war followed.

Hardings Are Known As People Whose Success Has Not Gone To Their Heads

(By David Lawrence)

(Copyright by Times Publishing Co.)

ALBANY, O., July 26.—It's from the home folks and neighbors that one learns of the true character and personality of a candidate for the presidency. And after spending a week in Marion, indulging with the folks who have known Warren Harding all their lives, those who call him "Warren" and his wife "Florence" without the slightest exaggeration of their familiarity with both, the visiting correspondent encountered reminiscences on every side of the struggle of the Hardings, for in a small town most people know all about most everybody else's trials and tribulations. The home folks talk frankly and sincerely and with an honesty in their eyes that convinces the listener they would have made the same comment even if their distinguished citizen were not a candidate for the highest office in the land.

The story really starts with the unhappy marriage of Florence Kling to Peter DeWolf, a railroad employee, whose errand ways made life miserable for Mrs. DeWolf. It was one of those youthful marriages which never would have occurred in later years. She bore the ordeal for many years, but finally the dominating personality of old Amos Kling, her father, persuaded her to obtain a divorce. The aged Mr. Kling is still spoken of as a self-made man, who made a big business success and who felt that his daughter was worthy of a better husband. And so did marry a woman of extraordinary talents and lovable qualities. When the separation came, Mr. Kling was inclined to drive his daughter to his side and persuaded her to enjoy the fruits of his wealth—either in extended travel or an exalted social position.

Helps Husband To Work

But Mrs. DeWolf fell in love with Warren Harding. He was then a poor young newspaper man struggling for a foothold. Mr. Kling wouldn't listen to the idea of a marriage between his

AVIATOR NOT IDENTIFIED AS HUSBAND OF VICTIM

CHICAGO, July 26.—Efforts to connect Roy Miller, a former army aviator, with the mysterious Detroit trunk murder, failed today when Patrolman Lee Trumbull, of the Detroit police department, was unable to identify Miller as the missing "Eugene Leroy."

DETROIT, July 26.—The woman whose mutilated body was shipped in a trunk from Detroit to New York has been positively identified by the Detroit police as Mrs. E. Leroy, formerly Miss Katherine Jackson, of Starkville, Miss. Police Inspector James McCarthy asserted today.

"Clothing found in the trunk with the body has been positively identified by Patrolman Trumbull and his wife, as having belonged to Mrs. Leroy," the Inspector said. Trumbull and his wife were intimately acquainted with the Leroy.

A detective from the Detroit department has gone to New York to seek further clues in connection with the case. He may ask that the body of the woman be brought to Detroit.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., July 26.—A photograph and detailed description of Allan Tatum, a printer employed here, together with a statement by him was sent today to the Detroit police by the local detective bureau that he believes that the woman's body was Katherine Jackson, of Starkville, Miss.

Tatum was told by friends that his name had been mentioned in connection with the trunk mystery. He went to police headquarters and volunteered the information that he was acquainted with the Jackson woman whom he had met here; that he had gone to Detroit to see her at her own invitation and that he knew she had married a man named Leroy.

The statements of Tatum gave rise to a police theory that Leroy had killed his wife, and then shipped the body to "A. A. Tatum" to incriminate the man whom he thought to be his rival.

No charge has been placed against Tatum.

JACKSON, MISS., July 26.—Inquiry at Starkville, Miss., has failed to establish the identity of Katherine Jackson, said by Detroit police to be the victim in the trunk murder mystery.

Indiana Coal Fields Hit By Strike

TERRE HAUTE, IND., July 26.—Indiana's coal field today is partially paralyzed by an unauthorized strike of day laborers and drivers following a similar action in the Illinois field. Fifty mines near Terre Haute are idle.

President Ed Stewart of District Number 11 Cuffed Mine Workers of America this morning wired President Taft urging a conference of miners and operators of the states in the competitive field, for the purpose of presenting the matter to the proper authorities for settlement. The day laborers claim they were discriminated against in the recent wage award.

LITTLE GIRL RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Both Mary, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Purcell of Adams street, was badly injured several days when she was knocked down by an automobile and dragged 30 feet before the machine could be stopped. The child when picked up was bloodied on the mouth, nose and ears. No bones were broken and the physician was called said the child would recover unless complications should develop. The accident occurred when the child ran across the street and fell under the automobile.

Mrs. Purcell was formerly Miss Nell Purcell of this city and is a niece of Mrs. Isabelle Krieger of Fourth street.

Plan To Beautify Park

At a recent joint meeting of the Park Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and some interested citizens the question of the proper care of Magnolia Park which is bounded by Franklin Ave., Robinson Ave., Hutchins street and Twelfth street was brought up for discussion. Albert Lechner chairman of the citizens committee stated that the park had been accepted as a city park and that it was being neglected and allowed to become an eyesore to the community. Mr. Lechner stated that at a meeting of citizens a small sum of money had been raised to rid the park of weeds and put it in an attractive condition.

It was further stated by the citizens committee that a great deal of trouble was being experienced in having the park used as a ball ground, and that the small trees and shrubbery there were being destroyed in this manner.

Safety Director Straus, who was in attendance at the meeting, stated that the city was prepared to give adequate police protection and would see that any vandalism would be promptly stopped. He stated that it was unnecessary to have this park destroyed by using it as a ball ground, as there were plenty of other sections where ball games could be played without using this particular park.

A "No Trespass" sign will be erected in the park as a warning in this connection, and prevention will be entered against anyone violating this notice. The citizens of that neighborhood are determined to break up the practice of allowing Magnolia Park to be destroyed, and they promised their cooperation to the city officials in promptly reporting all cases of vandalism which may come under their observation.

DRAFT DODGER GIVES SELF UP

Harding took an easier stride on his campaign work today. He had a few callers on his appointment list but most of the day he gave over to correspondence and recreation. Within a day or two he expects to begin preparation of his speech to be made here Saturday to a delegation from Manchester, Ohio.

Edwin Bergdoll

While Lieut. Col. John E. Hunt, assistant commander of the U. S. disciplinary barracks, was being tried in New York on a charge of neglect of duty in connection with the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy draft dodger, Bergdoll created a sensation when he walked into headquarters building on Governors Island and surrendered. Bergdoll was immediately locked up. He disappeared from his Philadelphia home two and one-half years ago.

BELIEVES IT SAVED HER LIFE

"All hope for my recovery had been given up and I thought myself I was going to die, but here I am today a perfectly well woman and I will always believe Tanlac saved my life," was the remarkable statement made a few days ago by Mrs. N. M. Moore of 1801 Maple Avenue, Huntington, W. Va.

"For several years I had been bothered with stomach trouble, and it had gotten so bad that I was suffering nearly all the time, night and day. Right after eating, gas would begin to form and I would bloat up so bad I could hardly stand it, and I just had to struggle to get my breath. There was a constant burning in my stomach that often wouldn't let me rest at night. I lost a terrible pain in my right shoulder and had a bad taste in my mouth most of the time. My liver was awful sluggish and I had headaches and dizzy spells nearly every day. I felt drabby, weak and half-sick all the time, had to give up my housework and my husband had to hire somebody to do even the least thing. I was discouraged and despondent. Life was little pleasure to me and I felt that I was a burden to others. Every effort I made to get relief was in vain and I grew worse until I thought I would surely die."

"And I don't believe I could have lasted a month longer, if it hadn't been for Tanlac, and as long as I live I will feel grateful to the friend who advised me to try it. In all I have taken four bottles and the difference it has made in me is little more than a month hardly seems possible. Why, Tanlac has restored my health completely. My appetite is just splendid and I am no longer troubled with gas, bloating, or pain; in fact everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. I am free from heartburn and the bad taste has left my mouth. My liver is in good condition and I am not bothered with headaches or dizziness anymore. I sleep soundly and never have that drabby, listless feeling now. I have been built up wonderfully and am once more doing my housework all by myself. Tanlac has meant more to me than I can ever tell and I wouldn't take anything in the world for the good it has done me."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fising & Strich Pharmacy and the leading druggists in every town.

HENRY FORD MAY CONVERT RUSSELL INTO A REAL INDUSTRIAL CENTER

BABY ABDUCTED; RECOVERED

To Hold Examination For Auto Mechanics

An open competitive civil service examination for auto mechanics, chauffeurs and garage men will be held at the local postoffice August 14. Auto mechanics are to receive a salary of $1,200 to $1,500 per year while the chauffeurs are to receive a salary of from $1,200 to $1,500 per year. There is also a vacancy in the aviation repair department at Dallas, Tex. The salary for this job may be made through the Secretary of the Youth Civil Service District, Customs House, New Orleans.

Aviator Lost In Clouds During Storm

Lieutenant W. O. Pearson, the aviator who has been making the Henry Russell farm his headquarters, was taken into the clouds by a storm Saturday afternoon on his way back from Greenfield. For sometime he was lost, being unable to discover the Ohio river through the blinding sheet, but on the instant that the sky cleared he found himself near the city. The wind tossed the big Curtiss plane around a great deal, but it landed without being damaged. Upon one other occasion Lieutenant Pearson was flying from one city to another with his bride in the passenger's seat, when they became lost in the clouds for two hours.

Lucasville Valley Chapel Picnic

All ready for the big picnic at the Lucasville Valley Chapel, held Wednesday July 25th. This picnic is confined to the Sunday Schools only. Everybody is invited to participate in the Community Sing and the games and contests. Bring well filled baskets for dinner or supper or both. It is going to be one big day of fun and entertainment for all who come. The Lucasville Valley Chapel is located on the corner of very stormy weather. The big picnic will be held the next day. You are assured shelter of a shower or two should happen out of the blue. The program is as follows:

Mr. Schreck New Consulting Engineer

Friends of H. L. Schreck of the Whitaker-Gosner company will be pleased to learn that he has just been promoted to the position of consulting engineer of the company, with headquarters in Wheeling. Considerable responsibility is attached to the job and Mr. Schreck is qualified to handle his new post with credit to himself and his employers. Mr. and Mrs. Schreck, who live at 1725 Hutchins street, will move to Wheeling and their departure from the city will be regretted by a wide circle of friends. They moved to this city from Pittsburgh two years ago.

NEW ORGAN IS DEDICATED

With appropriate exercises the organ of the First Baptist church was dedicated and turned over to the church at the morning service. The Ladies Aid Society brought the organ and according to their first plans were to make the last payment on it next month. By hard work the members of the aid were able to pay off the debt this month. They had charge of the dedication Sunday morning. Mrs. James Dawson presiding. The organ is a fine one and the churchmen accepted the organ on behalf of the church.

FLACK FOUND DEAD ON FARM

Harley Flack, Harrisonville, was found dead on his farm this morning. Mr. Flack, who was a well-known farmer of Stockdale vicinity had been suffering with heart trouble for sometime. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Harley Flack of New Boston, Alva Flack of this city, Samson Flack of Stockdale and two adopted daughters.

Sciotoville Wins From South Webster

The Sciotoville ball club visited South Webster Sunday afternoon and won a close game by a score of 4 to 3. Bratton pitched a good game with the exception of the first inning when three scores were made by two hits and three passes. A one-hundred running catch was made by G. Artie which was rewarded by great applause. The score:

Hock Back From St. Louis

Edward Hock, former Sully player, has returned home. He was in St. Louis with the St. Louis Cardinals and has returned home. Manager Hock wanted to play Hock, who is a good player and will be a big help to the team, but he prefers to stay home.

BREAK IN GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, July 26.—Severe breaks in the grain and provision markets today accompanied a sharp decline in industrial developments, especially reports of the closing down of a large motor enterprise on account of inability to sell its product. Wheat dropped as much as 5 cents a bushel and corn 3-5 cents.

Optimistic bank reports about crop market downward but lowest prices came after word had been circulated of weakness in the stock market and of industrial difficulties. Prices on change here dashed at the lowest point of the day, with December delivery of corn down to $1.23 in some cases as against $1.27 5-8 at the close on Saturday.

Extreme declines in wheat amounted to 6 cents a bushel at $2.51 for March delivery. Pork fell $2.00 a barrel and weight. Much of the selling pressure both in grain and provisions came from distress holding. There was also heavy speculative selling and unusual lack of buying support.

Society Will Meet Tonight

The Volio 21, a literary society of Portsmouth high school, will hold a meeting of great importance in the school auditorium at 7:30 (old time) this evening. All members are urged to be present.

The First Museum

The first museum was part of the palace of Alexandria, where learned men were maintained at the public cost, just as eminent public servants were in the Prytaneum at Athens. Its foundation is attributed to Ptolemy Philadelphus about 250 B. C.

Condition Is Serious

Mrs. Frank J. Warner, 1143 Ninth street, who has been confined to her home with nervous prostration since the death of her husband, has suffered a second relapse and friends regard her condition as very serious.

Teachers Are Planning To Boost School Funds

At a meeting of the Elementary School Teachers' Association Monday at the high school the teachers discussed plans for the campaign they will stage for getting additional funds for school purposes, by the three mill levy proposition to be voted upon August 10. They mean to do considerable personal work besides carrying on a campaign along other lines. Miss Clara Simpson is president of the association.

Made Talk In Manchester

Attorney Mark Crawford has returned from Manchester, where on Saturday night he addressed 300 voters. He spoke from the steps of the hotel and was given a cordial reception. Music for the rally was furnished by the Liberty Township band.

Urged Boy To Steal Wheel; Rigsby Fined By Gilliland

In probate court Monday Judge Gilliland fined Clyde Rigsby $5 and costs on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of his brother, Murrie Rigsby, and Lee Thompson. The former gave the Thompson boy 20 cents to steal a wheel and he then turned the bicycle over to his brother. Murrie, who was attempting to go to Kentucky with a wheel, was caught. Thompson admitted taking the 50 cents offered by Clyde Rigsby and later turning the bike over to Murrie Rigsby. Thompson and Murrie are under 18 and they were fined and made wards of the court. Clyde is past 18.

VACATIONING WITH FILM STARS

Irene Rich.

A swim and a romp on the beach with her two lovely colts is the daily routine of Irene Rich, the pretty actress who has recently joined the Goldenwyn stars. Miss Rich is another of the motion picture actresses who stay right near the Pacific ocean when she gets a vacation. She is an expert swimmer and would never consider a vacation which was not spent mostly in the water. "I always go where it's wet for my vacation," she facetiously remarked.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Jordan returned Sunday from a brief visit to Columbus and Marion, where they witnessed the notification exercises on Thursday. Mrs. Jordan spent Friday in Upper Sandusky, where she was the guest of Mrs. Mark Selby at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hare. Mrs. Selby is improving nicely from her recent injuries and will soon be able to be brought home. Her daughter, Miss Christine Selby, is with her.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Berndt and daughter, Miss Dorothy Berndt, returned recently from an extended motor trip through the east. During this most enjoyable trip they motored through thirteen states, some of which included the New England states with the beautiful scenery of the White Mountains, and the many interesting large cities of the East, including Boston, New York and Atlantic City. Upon their return they had the pleasure of meeting Senator Warren G. Harding at Marion.

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Powell will leave Tuesday on a motor trip to Martin's Ferry, where they will spend part of their vacation. They will be accompanied to the latter's home by Mrs. Powell's sister, Miss Sarah Heinrich, who has been visiting here for a couple of weeks.

Miss Mary Froun Jordan, who accompanied her parents to Columbus the past week, remained with her aunt, Miss Mary Jordan, for a longer visit.

Mrs. Edmond D. Ostler and little daughter, Betty Jane, of New Straitsville, are visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Ostler, 1810 Fifth street. Mr. Ostler is expected here the latter part of the week for a few days' visit.

Miss Mae Kish began her two week vacation from her duties at Ohio Zoeller's jewelry store today. She will take a motor trip to Atlantic City and other eastern points with Mrs. J. I. Marsh, Miss Charlotte Marsh, Messrs. J. I. Marsh, Jr., and Louis Marsh. This party will leave Tuesday.

Master Arnold Rice, 1720 Kinney street, has as guest Master George Taylor of Cincinnati.

Mr. Charles Keger, 920 Eighth street, who was seriously injured a week ago when he fell fifteen feet at the Portsmouth Store and Range Works, is slowly improving. He was able to stand on his feet today for the first time, his injuries being about the back and hips. His daughter, Miss Stella Keger, who was detained at home by her father's illness, returned to her duties at Otto Zoeller's a week ago today.

The sixth birthday anniversary of little Miss Jean Rice, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Rice, was happily observed this afternoon from two to four, when a company of little folks were invited in to make merry on this occasion. Outdoor games and a merry time was had, after which the little guests were invited to the disjuncture, where a lovely white-frosted birthday cake with the six pink candles greeted the little ones. Each was served with ice cream, cake and candy. Keepsake dolls were the favors. Those present for the happy event were Joan Strickmiller, Ruth Sperry, Leah Anderson, Mary Mayo, Lois and Bobbie Shaw, Mary, Charles, Jimmy and Elizabeth Anderson, Lois Franklin, Walter, Louis, Stahler, Martha, Laura, Elizabeth, Jane and Joseph Rice, Nina Campbell and Mary Margaret Tricer.

BIRTHS

Local relatives have received a telegram announcing the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Montavon, of Lima, Penn. on last Thursday evening. Mrs. Montavon was formerly Miss Betty McDermock, the sister of Dr. T. H. McDermock, of this city. Mr. Montavon is associated with his uncle, William Montavon in the oil business in Lima.

A son was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Forrest of 1735 Fifth street. Mr. Forrest is a well known N. and W. merchant.

Compete With Pyramids. The only competitor of the pyramids, says the Automobile Blue Book, is the famous galloping horse near Marko, Cal. These rocks are what remain of the magnificent old San Wasp ship temple where thousands of Indians gathered each year. The rocks were discovered by early Spaniards in the thirteenth century and it is believed that the group was one of the oldest known centers of the American Indians.

Years of a Good Thermometer. In order to ascertain whether a thermometer is correct or not, it is first plunged into melting ice and then into boiling water; the level of the mercury should indicate upon the scale exactly 32 degrees and 212 degrees Fahrenheit. When inverted the mercury should fall with a sudden click and fill the tube, thus showing the perfect action of air.

Intruders Invade Laundryman's Home But Promptly Flee

The home of R. T. Rosenberg at 909 Floral Avenue, Fairmont, W. Va., was invaded by the deadly germs of stomach, liver and kidney disorders, and both Mr. Rosenberg and his wife subjected to great danger. Mr. Rosenberg, who is Superintendent of the Troy Laundry in Fairmont, inside Guard of the Modern Woodmen of the World, Prelate of the Loyal Order of Moose, and is very prominent in business circles in his city, put the invaders to rest by the use of Reese Formula R-11. Now he and his wife are in perfect health and tell of their experience as follows:

"Both myself and wife have suffered from dizziness, headache, backache, pains around the heart, biliousness, kidney weakness and general rundown condition for years. We had tried doctors and all sorts of remedies without results until we began taking Reese Formula R-11, which has completely restored us. Nothing we can say or do is too good for the great remedy, and we most heartily recommend it to all sufferers of rheumatism, nervousness, dizziness, headache, indigestion, biliousness, stomach, liver and kidney troubles of all sorts."

If you suffer from any of the above disorders you perhaps have tried many remedies without success. You haven't tried the Reese Formula R-11, for it you had you would be well today. Get a bottle and make us prove it.

If you wish special information concerning your case, write our Medical Adviser, Medical Department, Reese Formula R-11, Huntington, W. Va. You can get Reese Formula R-11 at any drug store, or Fisher and Storch Pharmacy, Portsmouth, W. C. Tripp and Co., Schorville, McQuay's Wheelbarrow, Jos. Brant, Schorville, R. B. Thus it is now admitted for the first time in political circles here that France may be forced into a position where she will be brought to recognize the Soviets but it is declared she will do so only after due guarantees given that the Russian foreign debt will be paid.

ATHENS, Greece, July 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Adrianos, King of Greece, today issued, according to an official statement issued tonight, King Alexander intends to enter Adrianos Monday, the statement says.

ATHENS, July 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Greek "Raiders" forces, according to National's official statement on the question in Thessaly, advanced and after capturing the enemy easily occupied Lale-Beraz, 35 miles southeast of Adrianos, and Cherepilis.

"Much material and an undetermined number of prisoners were taken, and the enemy's losses were heavy," the statement said.

Turk Forces Retreating

ATHENS, July 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Colonel Jaffar Thar's hands are in full retreat. From all directions they are falling back toward Kirk Kiliseh, preceded by the Greek who yesterday took Lale-Beraz, southeast of Adrianos.

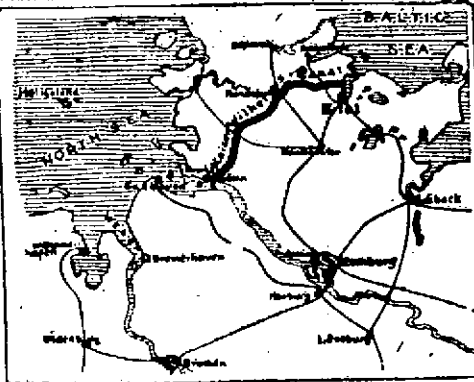

The Greeks hope to capture Jaffar before he reaches the Bulgarian border. One column, with this object in view, is cutting north of Adrianos to the mountains, while another is heading toward Kirk Kiliseh. It is intended that Jaffar is captured to hold him prisoner for the moral effect on the Turks.

QUIET KIEL AWAITS RETURN OF WORLD'S SHIPPING

Kiel harbor as it looks today and map showing its relation to the Baltic, to the North sea and to the important seaports of north-west Germany.

The harbor of Kiel, Germany, which before the war was one of the busiest harbors in the world, today is almost lifeless. In the accompanying photograph about the only ships to be seen are obsolete German war vessels that the allies did not want. When the world again trades with Russia and north Germany, Kiel will again spring into life, for it is at the eastern entrance of the Kaiser Wilson canal, one of the great trade routes of the world in normal times.

Reds Invade Armenia

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—Considerable Russian Bolshevik forces, chiefly cavalry, are overrunning the Karabagh district of Armenia, known as the "black garden," apparently with the purpose of joining the Turkish nationalist and the Russian Bolsheviks approaching Shusha. It is reported that Soviet Russia is accompanying the forces, which constitute a special army created for operations in Turkey.

The Armenians probably aggregate only 25,000 troops, many of whom are declared to be of Bolshevik tendencies, and Armenian resistance to a large Bolshevik movement, therefore it is believed, will be ineffective.

German Ban On Arms

BERLIN, July 26.—The German government today proclaimed an ordinance prohibiting the exportation and transit of arms, munitions, explosives or other war materials to Poland or Russia.

Constantinople, July 26

The Greek forces in Thessaly occupied Eski Baba, the junction point of the Constantinople and Kirk Kiliseh railway line today. They immediately pushed northward along the highway toward Adrianos.

Coalition Cabinet Meets

WARSAW, Poland's first coalition cabinet took office today soon after it was announced that the Soviets had accepted Poland's armistice proposals. Vincent Witos, who has been the leader of the popular peasant party, and president of the Polish parliament, is the new premier; Ignace Daszynski, socialist leader, vice-premier; Eugene Sapieha, minister of foreign affairs; General Lexowski, minister of war; Ladislas Grabski, minister of finance, and M. Skulski, who was premier succeeding Ignace Jan Pilecki, last December, minister of the interior. A number of changes appear among other chiefs of home affairs. The cabinet is known generally as a government desiring peace. The members are all well known and are said to have the confidence of all classes.

Meet at Best-Litovsk

Armistice negotiations between representatives of Poland and Soviet Russia probably will be held at Best-Litovsk, according to old circles today.

Negotiations to bring about the initial meeting of the military commanders to arrange for a conference between the delegations of both sides are under way somewhere on the front lines.

FRENCH ENTER DAMASCUS

PARIS, July 25.—Following on the heels of Great Britain's declaration that she would keep her hands off Syria, Damascus was today occupied by French troops under General Gouraud. The triumphant entry into the Syrian capital is believed to mark the end of the reign of Emir Feisal as

"King of Syria" which he proclaimed himself not long after the armistice, under a then hereditary British gulf-nu.

Sees Another Colonial War

"I am very much afraid that France's ambitions in Syria spell the beginning of another colonial war," said Senator D'Estournelles de Constant, an authority on foreign affairs. "Technically we are not at war with Syria, but that is only because apparently it is unnecessary to declare war officially on a colonial power. The fact remains that Damascus now is likely to become another Algiers."

The French official communiqué telling of the occupation of Damascus says French troops defeated the Syrians as a reprisal for and unprovoked attack. Emir Feisal now is believed to be altogether at the mercy of France, as the military machine that supported his regime is reported thoroughly destroyed.

Allied Mission In Warsaw

WARSAW, July 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sixteen members of the special British and French missions sent here to look into Poland's military situation and to confer with the government authorities arrived in Warsaw early today, and began making official calls and conferences.

The mission, which are headed by Jean Jules Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States, who is in Europe on leave of absence, and Lord D'Abernon, British ambassador to Germany, were met by Polish representatives. Very crowds assembled and showed their enthusiastic great hopes on the outcome of the mission's deliberations.

The delegates were received by M. Skulski, minister of the interior in the new cabinet, at the governor's palace, where the hosts of the mission met Premier Witos. One of the first questions presented was that of the disposition of war materials for Poland which have just arrived at the port of Danzig and which the working men are refusing to unload in order to prevent Poland getting them. The dock laborers and Soviet commissaries in Danzig are distributing anti-Polish propaganda.

Sport clothes have been getting more elaborate every season, but this seems to be going a little too far. To call this a sport frock is to fashion of orange net, over orange tulle with a bold design on the skirt of purple, red and green fabric. The dress has a front and back panel of the same material. The hat is made of orange horsehair.

Cummings Says Less Interest In Prohibition

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, spent half an hour with President Wilson today, discussing the league of nations and other questions. The former chairman said he expected to make the league issue the chief topic of his speeches he will deliver in the interest of the Democratic presidential ticket.

Mr. Cummings said that in recent travel he had found less interest in the prohibition question than had been expected.

ADANA IN STATE OF SIEGE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Since July 4, Adana, in the southeast part of Asia Minor, has been in a state of siege. The French have brought tanks into play and banged many machine guns, but in an effort to restore order, military communication has now been re-established between Adana and Merzifon about forty miles southwest of Adana. There are reports in Constantinople that the Turks are directing a big movement against Adana.

Hardings Success Has Not Gone To Their Heads

daughter and Warren Harding. He had higher aspirations and ambitions for her. But his daughter seemed to see before her and married Warren Harding. Old Amos Kling didn't think young Harding would make good in the world but Florence Harding thought otherwise. She set to work beside her husband with an earnestness and determination which was her own. Instead of the comforts and luxuries which her father might have given her, she took her place beside her husband in the tiny newspaper office, and while he devoted himself to the editorial side, she organized the circulation department. She hired the messengers and kept them on their toes all the time. To this day there are bankers, real estate and professional men who owe their first knowledge of salesmanship to the instructions given them as newsmen by Florence Harding.

No Grievance Against Hardings

Indeed there has been organized here a sort of Florence Harding Alumni Association, the members being the same people who in their youth sold the Marion Star for the Hardings.

Shortly the Harding couple forced ahead but still the older Kling was not reconciled to the choice of his daughter. He lived to see Warren Harding elected United States senator and then United States senator and old Amos Kling was reconciled to the marriage. For Warren Harding had "made good" after all. And many a man and woman who remember old Amos Kling while he was alive today to see Warren Harding, Republican candidate for the presidency and with a good chance to be the chief executive of the nation. The character of the Senator and Mrs. Harding is such that nowhere in the land is there the slightest mention of a grievance. The Hardings are known as generous and kindly people, whose success has not gone to their heads, whose hearts are still with their friends and neighbors and whose lives have been a poor struggle against odds, of every kind but a win in typical American fashion have won out and stand out as a shining example to all.

And their friends—the best testimonial that can be offered in public life, more persuasive than the plaudits of voters, the praise of the press or the flattery of party leaders.

Defrauded War Veterans Out Of Compensation

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The District of Columbia grand jury today took up investigation of an alleged conspiracy of certain employees of the war risk insurance bureau to defraud disabled service men and their dependents of compensation legally due. Officials of the bureau's secret service were prepared to lay before the grand jury evidence concerning the reported conspiracy by which it has been stated, scores if not hundreds of veterans of the world war were defrauded of considerable sums of money. Ten persons already have been arrested.

May Day in Scotland.

In Scotland May day was long known as Beltane. "Beltane" is a corruption of Belt, and the ancient May day ceremonies which were observed in Scotland until not so many years ago were survivals of the old Belt or fire worship, which in former days held away over the greater part of the Eastern hemisphere. The ancient ceremonies involved the burning of bonfires, the drawing of lots for sacrifice, and even a mock simulacrum of the sacrifice Beltane.

LUNDY MILLER DROWNS IN TURKEY CREEK

Searching Party Recovers Body; Met Death Shortly After Entering The Water

Lundy Miller, 20, an Excelsior shoe worker, was drowned Sunday afternoon in Turkey Creek, about five miles west of the city, the body remaining in the water over an hour and a half before it was recovered.

The scene of the fatality was on the Frank Kuhn farm, south of the pike and at the mouth of Stony Run. Miller, together with John Coldiron, 1800 Fifth street, his brother-in-law, Kester Woodrum, 718 Campbell avenue, and Joseph Sparks, 1823 Eighth street, went to Turkey Creek for a swim, making out in Coldiron's machine. Miller entered the water, swam out about half way across stream and died, holding his nose with his left hand; his right arm extended up in the air. His companions noticed that he did this twice, thought nothing of it, but when he came up the third time they noticed that he made a peculiar noise with his nose, and Sparks went to him, throwing him a log, and attempted to pull him out of the water. Sparks, being lighter in weight, was unable to pull Miller out, and the efforts of the others were equally unsuccessful.

farm house and tried to call the city, but because of some trouble with the wires, he was unable to get the exchange, and came into town, driving to his home, where he got his brother, Walter Coldiron, and, to the police station, where he called Chief Distel into action, and these three, together with two Times men, rushed to the scene.

Chief Distel took command of the party, which was soon joined by Albert Burnishwar, 3835 Stanton avenue, New Boston, and by Clarence Bowen and Lawson Clark. They secured a boat, and after getting some grab hooks, they proceeded to drag the creek.

Chief Distel felt the body about twenty feet from where Miller went down, and then Burnishwar hooked onto the latching snail. Clark, who was diving around, succeeded in aiding them in bringing the body to shore. Bowen also entered the water, but was forced to come out to rest before the body was found.

Strenuous efforts were made by the Chief and others to restore life, but Miller was beyond the aid of respiration.

What Is The Condition of Your Blood Supply?

Highly Important to Keep It Free From Impurities

Did you know that ninety percent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood? Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unmistakable sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing your system, and keeping the blood supply pure and robust. For this purpose, no remedy can equal S. S. S., the fine old blood purifier that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. Being made from the roots and herbs of the forest, it is purely vegetable, and contains not a particle of chemical or mineral substance.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drug-store today, and note how promptly it builds up the appetite and gives new strength and vitality. Write for free literature and circular advice to Chief Medical Adviser, 610 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Story measures. Coroner Hendrickson, who had been making a professional call down at Buena Vista, was stopped on his way back to town, and pronounced the death due to drowning, but stated that an investigation would be necessary before the cause of drowning could be determined. The body was then taken to the Dwyer morgue.

Miller was married eleven months ago Sunday to Miss Gilda Coldiron of this city. They lived on Boundary street. He is survived by his widow, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of Ulysses, Ky., and ten brothers and sisters: William Miller of Ashland, Mrs. Gertrude Moore of this city, Mrs. Ella Brown of Ashland, and Carrie Charles, Georgia, Alta, Ray, Tex. and Everett Miller of Ulysses.

The remains will be taken late this evening to the Miller home at Ulysses, where the funeral will be held and interment made.

Services will be held tonight at 8:30, now time, from the Coldiron home, 1800 Fifth street. Rev. Chas. R. Oakley will officiate.

Motorists Going By Way Of Lucasville

Many motorists going to Waverly, Chillicothe and Columbus are driving straight through from Lucasville and are not taking the West Side road. There are three or four short detours above Lucasville, but they are in fairly good shape and usually time can be saved by going by way of Lucasville. Unless heavy rains have fallen, any motorist can go over the detours in perfect safety.

NEW BOSTON HAPPENINGS

Daughters of America will hold their regular business meeting this evening in their hall on Galloway avenue. All members are urged to be present as business of importance will be transacted.

The last quarterly conference of the M. E. church will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the church, Dr. J. B. Frank the district superintendent, will conduct services. All members of the official board are expected to be present.

Mrs. J. C. Grundison's Sunday school class, known as the Buds of Promise, of the M. E. church, will give a treble social Saturday evening on the church lawn. All girls and women of the church are asked to participate in this affair, each being requested to bring a tie and a pie, and wearing an apron the same color of the tie. The person buying the tie will be required to find the girl with the apron of the same shade. Ice cream and cake will also be served. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wolfe and son, Fred, of Grace street, have returned home from Ashland, after a few days' visit with relatives.

Charles Poole of Rhodes avenue, who has been ill for sometime, shows no improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and their daughters, Vivian and Harriet, of Lucasville, were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McCormick of Selosville.

Has Charge Of Egg Dept.

R. E. Pierce has been placed in charge of the egg department of the Federated and Jordan Storage Company, taking up his duties Monday. Mr. Pierce was formerly in the poultry and egg business in Portsmouth, for himself, and will make a valuable addition to the firm's staff of department heads.

In Columbus Albert Hewitt former phlebotomist at the steel plant is now working in Columbus.

Locates At Marysville

George Perry Webster of Fifth street, has gone to Marysville, O., to locate, where he is engaged in business for the Sally Light Co. of Columbus. Mrs. Webster expects to join her husband there in a few weeks.

West Side Social

An ice cream social and dance will be given Thursday evening July 26th at the Arthur Payne farm, which is located one mile west of McDermott. Sandwiches, ice cream and all kinds of soft drinks will be sold on the grounds. Music will be furnished by the Marion Band of the West Side. A large crowd is expected to enjoy the affair, which promises a good time to all.

The Last Week of Our Clearance Sale on Rugs

Since the opening of this clearance sale of fine rugs there have arrived many patterns of the new fall designs, and while this is really a clearance sale to which new goods are not usually admitted, we have not kept the law in this instance but subject the new arrivals to the same general discount as the stock on hand.

This rug sale lasts this week only. Those who would profit through the reductions must come now.

THE FEW CRIMINAL RICH

ACCORDING to the official figures this country is never more foolish or ignorant than when it maddens itself with reproaches of the grossly rich for absorbing the wealth and power of the land.

In number and means, those whom we are wont to hear denounced because of their swollen fortunes are insignificant.

Assuming that one, who has less than an income of $10,000 a year can scarce be counted rich there are a total in the reprobated class of only 166,395. That can scarce be regarded as a threatening force against a total of 120,000,000, the estimated population of the country.

Nor is that all for it must be taken into account that not all those 166,395 stand off in a class by themselves and alone. In it are many, thousands and thousands of wage workers, men who earn their wage through muscular toil. You find them here in Portsmouth and everywhere where there are great industries. You find them by the thousands also in the fortune hunters and land owners of the oil fields and among the farmers and fruit growers and cattle men of the abounding west and south, find them, in fact, in every pursuit and line of business. As a rule, they are not different and put on no superior airs over their less prosperous neighbors and associates. They have the same virtues and the same faults and their last ambition is to be a man.

The nation has little to fear in individual wealth, its peril lies in aggregated capital, the big business whose success can be swollen through the corruption of legislators and the perversion of laws. These corporations have no souls and the souls of mortals are valued by them on a cash basis. Fortunate, indeed, is the land that it has not many of these. It understands quite clearly that a business is not criminal, simply because it is large, or happens to be conducted by a corporation, but there is an interest here and there that though just and legitimate in principle is unjustly and illegitimately conducted.

Guess the once haughty Democracy can put on airs too. One of its senatorial candidates is traveling about the state in an airplane. Remember what a sensation was created when Tom Johnson came to Portsmouth town in his famous Red Devil! That was along about 1902, when automobiles were a rarity and great crowds assembled at the Washington to view the Mopster. Johnson was about the worst beaten man that ever ran for governor and this senatorial candidate had better beware. Democracy has taken to wearing socks, silk socks at that, but it is still powerful set against putting on style.

It is understood that the faction of the local Republican party that calls itself "the organization" is for Brown and Cole. The situation appears to be, however, that the mass of the voters are not particularly interested and they will go to the polls on primary day and vote just as they feel like it at the time. Willis and Davis can be counted on to make a good showing in the count.

By and large it all evens up in the long run. Here's Warren Gamaliel Harding, who has found fault with everything the administration has done or not done for the past five years, good, bad or indifferent, delivering an acceptance speech of admirable moderation and dignity, only to find everybody kicking at it, from Democrats to Prohibitionists and Farm-Laborites.

It seems to us about the most decent and proper thing of the campaign so far is the refusal of Governor Cox to make any comment on the speech of acceptance of Senator Harding. It gives promise that he, at least, is not going off into the petty bickers of which there has already been too much.

Makes all the difference in the world the way the figures run. If the Reds had a habit of winning three in a row instead of dropping that many they would be way up yonder by now, instead of a poor second.

Japan is said to be watching China and that is the very thing China objects to. She knows what is likely to happen when the cat gets eye on the rat.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MINTINE

NEW YORK, July 26—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: I up, leaving late with G. Beck, the lyric writer, in his car, shore place and terrace. Then to the city where all morning at my labors. At the depot I directed a merry gentleman to his son it proved to be the father of my old school fellow T. Howard.

This day at lunch I did meet Sir Thomas Lipton, the tea merchant, and a pleasant gentleman bravely fanned his face. Came my she-cousins greatly distressed over a trick of a profiteering hand and I sought him out and we had high words and he threatened to come and see me but nothing came of it.

To a theatrical office and a young girl there danced a foxtrot, shivering as with ague, yet she is paid a noble wage for such silliness. R. Hitchcock, newly come to town, there too and made some brave quips and all in high spirits. Thence to my bank and find myself again in my estate and my expenses mounting very fast. What I shall do I do not know.

In the evening with my wife, poor wretch, to seek a dinner place and in the park M. Doherty in his beaming buggy hailed us and all to dinner, an expensive one, but luckily I was called to the telephone at the reckoning. Walked home in the moon, shivering and saw many children on the benches in the park, which is a pity, some being old women. As I go to bed.

A brusque theatrical manager whose thousands of managers are well known along the Halls was in the office the other day after lunch. His feet were on top of his desk, his coat off, hat on and a black card sitting upward from his lips.

A very pretty young girl came in unannounced looking for a job. She gave the immediate impression of gentle manners and culture. As she talked her refinement evidently impressed the manager, who had not moved.

Finally, as though a fine thought had struck him, he said: "I beg pardon, young lady, but do you mind if I remove my hat?"

A Fifth Avenue clubman who was known as a pay-off dog in his day but who finally found he couldn't keep up the game is now living on a quiet farm over in Jersey. He putters around as much as his gout will permit him during the day and when evening comes he sits in a big rocking chair out on a big veranda. It is a very handsome spot and some old cronies out morning dropped in to see him one night recently. They could not help but compare his simple life with the hazy-con days that were gone.

"Don't you feel awfully lonesome out here, old top?" one inquired.

"Q not," was the reply. "I don't mind it. In the evening I sit out in the chair and in the absolute quiet I listen to the hurrying of the arteries."

One of the scathless magazines has a young editor whose horn rimmed glasses accentuate his glib features. He is severely studious. At one of the university clubs he was a luncheon guest last week. A self-made type sat next to him. Afterward a friend said to him: "What do you think of your young editor?"

"Nice fellow," he said. "But he hasn't knocked about much. I don't believe he has ever been west of Harvard."

Harry Leon Wilson writes from California that he has taken up horse-back riding. He likes it very much. "There is one strange thing, however," he adds. "I have found that almost every riding horse has several galls. Unfortunately I have only one. Mine is a gallsy."

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

TEA WITH MOTHER EDMONDS

At five o'clock this afternoon I went into Mother Edmunds' house, a wee bit weary from my recent labors, but with such a glorious weariness, this kind that attacks you after a day of the work you adore. It's a slow, exciting, like no other, that steals in, stealthily through your whole being, rendering you totally unresisting, and thoughtfully numb in every limb (some description that). You stretch out on any couch or bed that happens to be handy, and drift off into the great spaces peopled by silver silences most soothing. Nothing disturbs you, and yet you are vaguely conscious of all that is going on about you, despite the fact that your eyes are closed, and your spirit in communication with the hushed corners of the world.

Mother Edmunds must have realized just how I felt, for she made me stretch out on the chaise longue and rest without talking for half an hour before we had tea. It was sweet of her.

While I was lying there, awake, as I thought, I suddenly heard a low, familiar laugh, and looked up to see Cecil leaning over me. He lifted me up and took me in his arms, as though I belonged to him, and kissed me hard, upon the mouth. I kissed him back, and felt on fire. Then he held me tighter than ever, and his grasp hurt my arms cruelly, and I cried out. And then Jack rushed up to us and struck at Cecil, and I cried out loudly.

It had been all a dream, but the thought of it made me feel queer for a long time, after "awaking." Mother Edmunds told me that I had slipped in my sleep and then groaned. She said that I must be very tired indeed to fall asleep as quickly as I had done, and begged me to take good care of myself for every one's sake, as well as my own.

Then we had tea, and sat and talked over our cups, quite frankly. Once or twice when I thought of the cup that Laura was planning for tomorrow I did feel a sort of twinge of conscience, for somehow or other it dawned on me that Mother Edmunds and mother are after all, very lovely women of the old school, which fact they cannot help. Neither can they help our feeling the way we do on many subjects. It's all such a stupid mess, this antagonism between the old and the new generations. Sometimes I am bitter about it all, and then, again, I feel sad.

One thing I do know, and that is that each great change in the program of life brings tragedy. There is no help for this law, and thus has it ever been, since time immemorial.

My, most, the pioneers, for it is they who suffer most for each cause, and each change in the affairs of men and conditions, yet they, above all, are also to be most envied. Personally I am proud to be torch-bearer in my family, oh, very proud.

I told father about this one day, lately, and he seemed to understand me perfectly—but then he always does. And how I love him for it.

"Lindsey, little daughter," said he to me, "I always knew somehow, from the time you were a wee thing, that you were destined to be different from the rest of us, and now I see that I was right. Always remember that you have the sympathy and support of your old daddy, dear heart, and it will please me more than all else."

Now can you beat that for a regular daddy?

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

The labors of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt in the interest of woman suffrage that were to bring her to the present posts as president of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance and of the National Woman Suffrage Association began in her native state of Iowa in 1890, when Mrs. Catt, then Carrie Lane, affiliated herself with the Iowa Woman Suffrage Association as state lecturer and organizer.

From 1892 until the present, Mrs. Catt has been in the service of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, serving as president of that organization from 1900 to 1903 and being elected again in 1910. When she attempted to retire from the presidency of the International Alliance at Geneva last June she was re-elected by acclamation.

Mrs. Catt has lectured in nearly every state in this country and nearly every country in Europe. She has been among the most active suffrage workers in the campaigns here that have already proved successful and was a leader in the campaign that resulted in the submission of a woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution. The bill was successfully passed in the house of representatives in May of last year and was approved by the senate the following month.

Mrs. Catt believes that women should have such business or professional training that if necessary they can support themselves. Here are some statements she made in an interview on the subject of women as wage earners:

"If women are equipped to be self-supporting, boys should be taught household duties, so if ever their wives have to go out to do their work they can do them at home."

"Women without children should work after marriage. The woman who sits idly in a boarding house or furnished room is immoral and a parasite."

The Serial

In order to be full of thrill, hit-raising stunts, and apical chills, each serial—I've wisely learned—Gotta all of this will need:

One hero with at least nine lives. One villain armed with glistening knives. A vamp whose hectic love is spurred. One heroine in need:

A rajah, shah, a mandarin. A sultan, czar, and jardarine. (With what these are no one's concerned. They help the tale to speed.)

A revolution in full swing. A shaking throne, a quaking king. A treasury robbed, a village burned. A country to be freed:

Two trains derailed, a sinking ship. Three aeroplanes wrecked at one clip. Four automobiles overturned. At least one maddened steed:

Seems under water by the score. A bunch of bombs, a steen gun or more. And a plot too deep to be discerned By the wisest fan indeed:

BILLY WHISKER

The other kids of the big flock on the pretty Slicks farm thought that they were having a very nice time, but Billy did not like it very well. He could run faster, jump higher, and butte harder than any of the other kids of his age and he wanted more room. Nearly every day he stopped for a while beside the high fence and looked out through it at the green slopes that ran up to the mountains. The leaves looked so much fresher and more tender there, and the sun so much brighter. Besides there were rocky places— he could see them—which would make such fine playgrounds and jumping places. His wise old mother shook her head when he told her about these things.

"You are too little yet, Billy," she always said. "You are not yet strong enough to be out in the world alone, even if you could get away from here."

"Just wait till I get big," Billy would say shaking his head and then he would scamper away to style his whiskers of some color old goat or to romp or play fight with one of the other youngsters.

He was the most mischievous kid in the flock and because of that his mother named him Billy Whisker. Farmer Klausen, who owned him, was nearly as proud of him as Billy's own mother could be.

"That's the smartest and strongest young goat I've got," he used to brag to his neighbor, fat Hans Zug, but for all that he kept a sharp eye on Billy and would not allow him to break away from the flock and escape as he sometimes tried to do when they were being driven across the road from one pasture to another.

One day, when Billy was almost a full grown goat, his chance came at last. Farmer Klausen was standing in the middle of the road to see that none got away, while his boys were driving the flock over the lower meadows. Billy, who came up with the others, looking as innocent as a goat can look suddenly wheeled and with a hard jump landed his broad head and horns square in the stomach of his master. Farmer Klausen gave a yell, threw up both his hands and went heels over head into the dust while Billy, straining over him, ran as hard as he could for the hills.

Coming down the road toward him was fat Hans Zug, with a robe across his shoulders from which hung two great pails of goats' milk. With a great taking down to the chocolate factory in the valley. Startled that, when he saw neighbor Klausen's goat getting away near throat of a road, down his pails, but spread out his arms and stood square in the middle of the road waving his hands and shouting: "Shoo! Shoo!" It was a mistake to think that he could scare this scamp goat by saying "Shoo!" or by keeping his fat body in the road, for Billy came straight on with his head down, and just as Hans thought that maybe he had better step to one side, Billy gave a mighty jump and landed Hans up just like he had Farmer Klausen.

(Tomorrow Billy's mother John.)

SOVIET ARMIES INVADE ARMENIA; TURKS FLEE BEFORE GREEKS

ADRIANOPLE FALLS TO GREEKS; FRENCH TAKE DAMASCUS

LONDON, July 26.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Lloyd George will meet Premier Millerand of France at Boulogne, tomorrow (Tuesday) to discuss the Russian proposal that the allies hold a conference with the Russian Soviet government.

ATHENS, July 26.—By the Associated Press)—Colonel Jaffar Taya's hands are in full retreat. From all directions they are falling back toward Kirk Kiliseh, pressed by the Greeks who yesterday took Lale Berris, southeast of Adrianople.

"The Greeks hope to capture Jaffar before he reaches the Bulgarian border, one column, with this object in view, is cutting north of Adrianople to the mountains, while another is behind Kirk Kiliseh. It is intended if Jaffar is captured to hold him prisoner for the moral effect on the Turks."

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—Constantinople Russian Bolshevik forces, chiefly cavalry, are overrunning the eastern district of Armenia, known as the "black garden," apparently with the purpose of joining the Turkish Bolsheviks and the Russian Bolsheviks approaching Shusha. It is reported that the Bolsheviks are negotiating the force, which constitute a special army, for operations in Turkey.

The Armenians probably aggregate 25,000 troops, many of whom are believed to be of Bolshevik tendencies and Armenian resistance to a large Bolshevik movement, therefore it is believed will be ineffective.

LONDON, July 26.—The Greeks have occupied Adrianople, according to an announcement made in the Athens newspapers Saturday and forwarded to the Exchange Telegraph Company. King Alexander will enter Adrianople Sunday.

BERLIN, July 26.—The German government today proclaimed an ordinance prohibiting the exportation and transit of arms, munitions, explosives, or other war materials to Poland or Russia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—The Greek forces in Thrace occupied Eski Kara the junction point of the Constantinople and Kirk Kiliseh railway last Saturday. They immediately pushed northward along the highway toward Adrianople.

Coalition Cabinet Meets

WARSAW, Poland.—First coalition cabinet met today soon after it was announced that the Soviets had accepted Poland's armistice proposals.

Alfred Witos, who has been the leader of the popular peasant party, is president of the Polish parliament, the new premier; Ignace Daszynski, socialist leader, vice-premier; Leon Kasprzak, minister of foreign affairs; General Leczynski, minister of war; Stanislaw Grabski, minister of finance; and M. Skulski, who was premier succeeding Ignace Daszynski, last December, minister of the interior. A number of names appear among other chiefs of the cabinet. The cabinet is known generally as a government desiring peace. The members are all well known and are said to have the confidence of all classes.

Head of Red-Litisk

Antisemitic negotiations between representatives of Poland and Soviet Russia, probably will be held at Brest-Litovsk, according to diet circles.

Antisemitic to bring about the in-crease of the military command, the departure of a conference between the representatives of both sides, it was somewhere on the front.

DECIDING YACHT RACE WILL BE HELD TODAY

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 26.—The final yacht race to decide whether the American cup will remain in this country or take a trip abroad in custody of Sir Thomas Lipton will be decided today between Shamrock IV and the defender Resolute.

Weather sharp early today predicted that there would be good racing weather for the windward and leeward course of 15 miles to a log, a course favorable to the Resolute, according to experts.

Friends of Shamrock IV, however, had sanguine hopes as to the final outcome, largely because of the belief announced that Captain Andrew Jackson Applegate would be aboard the green sloop as weather adviser.

Members of Shamrock's crew expressed the belief that the second victory of the challenger was due in a large part to the yachting genius of Captain Applegate.

A good 12 knot breeze from the northwest and a smooth sea were favorable prospects for the last race.

All hands aboard the cup sloop felt the inspiration that a smart sailing ship and a smart crew were early in the race and below decks. The crew posted a lookout for each racing start and set an added bonus for every winning contest. The Americans declared that the Resolute will be the winner today and Sir Thomas Lipton will fall to win the cup.

Charles E. Nicholson, designer of Shamrock, still insists that the present races have been little more than a series of races with Resolute and Shamrock along Long Island Sound for cups offered by local yacht clubs.

Sir Thomas is said to have spent approximately $1,000,000 in his latest attempt to lift the cup and yachting experts assert Shamrock IV in the interest of yacht designing, should have further tests in competition with Resolute and other ships of American design.

As a member of the New York Yacht Club, Sir Thomas can enter Shamrock in the club's races.

KILLS CHUM BECAUSE SHE WORE PRETTY CLOTHES

LEXINGTON, KY., July 26.—Alice Hammock, a pretty mountain girl, was killed near here tonight—a victim of jealousy. It was not another "eternal triangle." No man was involved.

Goldie Sturges, another mountain girl, and a chum of Alice, shot her three times, fatally wounding her, because she was jealous of Alice's clothes. The shooting occurred after Goldie had lured her victim far into the mountains.

She has been arrested.

Turks May Not Ratify Treaty After Signing

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—(By the Associated Press)—After the departure of Turkey's peace delegates for Paris with instructions to sign the treaty the means of ratification have been eagerly discussed in Constantinople.

Under the Turkish constitution the chamber of deputies must ratify treaties. That is impossible under the present circumstances as a majority of the chamber is composed of Nationalists, many of whom are in Angora. There is no legal way for the Sultan to convoke another chamber.

Poles Must Disarm For Peace Parley

VIENNA, July 26.—(By the Associated Press)—It is reported in apparently official quarters here that the first stipulation of the proposed treaty will require the Poles before entering into peace negotiations will be that the Poles disarm completely so that the negotiations might not be used to gain time or to await the arrival of French or British reinforcements.

A wireless message from the Soviet command to General Mikulski, president of Poland and head of the Polish army, intercepted here, asks the name of the sector where Soviet representatives may meet the Poles to arrange armistice preliminaries.

Woman's Body Washed Ashore

CLEVELAND, O., July 26.—Police today were trying to identify the body of a woman washed ashore on the lake front late last night. The body was buried only in a tattered skirt and one shoe, and these are the only clues to her identity. The body was that of a girl about 25 years old and had been in the water for several weeks, police believe. There were no marks of violence on the body, so far as police were able to determine.

Hold Suspect In The Gotham Trunk Murder

DETROIT, MICH., July 26.—(By the Associated Press)—The Detroit police believed today that the mystery surrounding the shipping of the nude and mutilated body of a woman in a trunk from this city to New York, was near solution.

Patrolman Leo Trumbull, of the local police force, positively identified clothing found in the trunk as having belonged to Mrs. E. Leroy, who lived nearby in June at the Harper avenue apartment house from which the trunk was sent to New York.

Trumbull will go to Chicago at once. It was announced, to assist in identification of a man held by the police there and who gave the name of Roy Miller. Chicago police declared Miller fills the description of Leroy.

According to Patrolman Trumbull and his wife, who were acquainted personally with the Leroy's, Mrs. Leroy formerly was Mrs. Katherine Jackson, of Starkville, Miss., and was married to Leroy here a year ago.

CHICAGO, July 26.—The outcome of efforts to connect Roy Miller, arrested here last night, with the mysterious death of a woman whose mutilated body was found in a trunk shipped from Detroit to New York, police were able to determine.

Italian Destroyer Hits Mine

Jackson And Columbus Reap Row Of Goose Eggs At Millbrook

Miracle Men Win, 1-0, All Stars Cop 4 To 0, Great Crowd Was Out

Sunday was a big day, a great day, a most joyful, well-timed day for Portsmouth fans, for the two teams representing the Peerless City won their contests at Millbrook Park. Johnny Grimm's Miracle Men taking the champs of Jackson into camp by the smallest score, while the All Stars gave the Pan-Handleers of Columbus something to think about, winning by the count of 4 to 0.

A great crowd was out to witness the double-header—and every person present received his fill of hopes, the contests being well played and interesting in the extreme.

It was Portsmouth's day. Both teams put up brilliant exhibitions and deserved victory. As predicted to these columns, the Jackson team is a well-balanced aggregation, and lost to the Miracle Men because they could not hit Pitcher Hollins, who held the visitors to three hits. Hollins, who is one of those pitchers who hits with his head as well as with his arm, allowed but three hits, scattered through three innings, and was never in danger of being scored upon. He received fine support and the game was even more exciting than the afternoon's contest where free hitting abounded and everything the All Stars tried went through. Opposed to Hollins in the opening game was Pitcher Patton, a big chap who had all sorts of tricks and who shot and whirled, but his hits and but one after the third inning. The Miracle Men started out strong, though they were going to drive him to the woods but he lightened up after getting used to the swirly, and it was not until the last inning that he showed a hint, and that was good for the game, said single being helped along by an error on the part of his battery partner, and losing the Jacks-sonians the game. Manager Grimm went to bat with two out and managed to get his team in front of one of Mr. Patton's wide shots. He treated to first and promptly scored second. Pitcher Hollins, who can hit as well as pitch, clubbed a single to right. Manager Grimm going to third and thence home when the relay got through. Catcher Allen and rifled to the stands. The crowd let out a great whoop and then settled back to await the appearance of the Pan-Handleers and All Stars who were soon at it. The score of the opening game follows:

SECOND GAME

The second game was made to order for the fans. The All Stars got the jump on the Pan-Handleers, and were never in danger thereafter. Eddy Donahue was on the mound for the hosts and he was in the best of form. His fast ball had a swerving top and he breezed through in great shape, allowing a hit now and then but keeping up when danger threatened. He was a great part of the game, taking two of eight chances, allowing in a run by a perfect throw and framing on a line drive to first base. The big fellow has come back into form and right now is at the top of his form. He was expected to do much better than he did, and a pitcher of his class should have been able to hold his own. The All Stars, on their part, played a clean, hard game, and were in the best of form. THE FEW CRIMINAL RICH

ACCORDING to the official figures this country is never more foolish or ignorant than when it maddens itself with reproaches of the grossly rich for absorbing the wealth and power of the land.

In number and means, those whom we are wont to hear denounced because of their swollen fortunes are insignificant.

Assuming that one who has less than an income of $10,000 a year can scarce be counted rich there are a total in the reprobated class of only 166,996. That can scarce be regarded as a threatening force against a total of 120,000,000, the estimated population of the country.

Nor is that all for it must be taken into account that not all those 166,996 stand off in a class by themselves and alone. In it are many, thousands and thousands of wage workers, men who earn their wage through muscular toil. You find them here in Portsmouth and everywhere where there are great industries. You find them by the thousands also in the fortune hunters and land owners of the oil fields and among the farmers and fruit growers and cattle men of the abounding west and south. And then, in fact, in every pursuit and line of business. As a rule, they are not different and put on no superior airs over their less prosperous neighbors and associates. They have the same virtues and the same faults and their last ambition is to be a man.

The nation has little to fear in individual wealth. Its peril lies in aggregated capital, the big business whose success can be swollen through the corruption of legislators and the perversion of laws. These corporations have no souls and the souls of mortals are valued by them on a cash basis. Fortunately, indeed, is the land that it has not many of these. It understands quite clearly that a business is not criminal simply because it is large, or happens to be conducted by a corporation, but there is an interest here and there that though just and legitimate in principle is unjust and illegitimately conducted.

Guess the once harp-tongued Democracy can put on airs too. One of its senatorial candidates is traveling about the state in an airplane. Remember what a sensation was created when Tom Johnson came to Portsmouth town in his famous Red Devil? That was long about 1902, when automobiles were a rarity and great crowds assembled at the Washington to view the Monster. Johnson was about the worst beaten man that ever ran for governor and this senatorial candidate had better beware. Democracy has taken to wearing socks, silk socks at that, but it is still powerful set against putting on style.

It is understood that the faction of the local Republican party that calls itself "the organization" is for Brown and Cole. The situation appears to be, however, that the mass of the voters are not particularly interested and they will go to the polls on primary day and vote just as they feel like it at the time. Willis and Davis can be counted on to make a good showing in the count.

By and large it all even up in the long run. Here's Warren Gamaliel Harding, who has found fault with everything the administration has done or not done for the past five years, paid, had or indifferent, delivering an acceptance speech of admirable moderation and dignity, only to find everybody kicking at it, from Democrats to Prohibitionists and Farm-Laborites.

It seems to us about the most decent and proper thing of the campaign so far is the refusal of Governor Cox to make any comment on the speech of acceptance of Senator Harding. It gives promise that he, at least, is not going off into the petty bickers of which there has already been too much.

Makes all the difference in the world the way the figures run. If the Reds had a habit of winning three in a row instead of dropping that many they would be way up yonder by now, instead of a poor second.

Japan is said to be watching China and that is the very thing China objects to. She knows what is likely to happen when the eye gets eye on the rat.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. C. McVITTE

NEW YORK, July 25.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys, up, having him with G. Beck, the lyric writer, in his sea shore place and trimmed himself. Then to the city where all morning at my labors. At the depot I directed a merry gentleman to my son it proved to be the father of my old school fellow T. Howard.

This day at lunch I met Mr. Thomas Lipka, the tea merchant, and a personal gentleman, friendly to me. Came my son-cousins greatly distressed over a letter of a professor and I sought him out and we had high words and he threatened to leave me but nothing came of it.

To a theatrical office and a young fellow there dressed a lady, slithering as with age, yet she is paid a night wage for such silliness. It has been, lately, come to town, indeed, the real lady—she knows things and all in French. Then to my bank and find myself again to low estate and my expenses mounting very fast. What I shall do I do not know.

In the evening with my wife, post-travel, to seek a dinner place. And in the park I, liberty in his lounge, honey led us and all to dinner, an expensive one, but luckily I was called to the telephone at the moment. Walked home in the moon-shine and saw many sleeping on the benches in the park, which is a pity, some being old women. And so to bed.

A leaguer theatrical manager whose manners are well known, about the 10th was in his office. The other day after lunch, his feet were in a bag of his socks, his coat off, hat on and a black cigar billowing upward from his lips.

A very pretty young girl came in unannounced looking for a job. She gave the immediate impression of a gentle manners and culture. As she is a girl.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

TEA WITH MOTHER EDMONDS

At five o'clock this afternoon I had begged me to take good care of new Mrs. Edmonds' house, a house for every one's sake, as well as see her weary with my recent labors, my own. Then we had tea, and sat and kind that attacks you after a day of work you adore. It's a show, evoked, imagine, like no other, that seals us of the comp that Laura was planning, obviously through your whole being, for tomorrow I did feel a sort of, touching you totally unresisting, and heartily much in every line. Some other I dived on me that Mother, description that. You stretch out on any couch or bed that happens to be, hand, and drift off into the great, spaces peopled by silver silences most can they help our feeling the way no soothing. Nothing disturbs you, and you are vaguely conscious of all, that is going on about you, despite the fact that your eyes are closed, and your spirit in communication with the, lusted corners of the world.

One thing I do know, and that is, Mother Edmonds must have real, just how I felt, for the made me stretch out on the chaise longue, and rest without talking for half an hour before we had tea. It was sweet of her.

While I was lying there, awake, as I thought, I suddenly heard a low, familiar laugh, and looked up to see my old leading over me. He lifted me up and took me in his arms, as though I belonged to him, and kissed me hard, upon the mouth. I kissed him back, and felt on fire. Then he held me perfectly, and then he always does. Higher than ever, and his grasp hurt me, my arms cradled, and I cried out, "Mother, little daughter," said he then Jack rushed up to us and struck at Cecil, and I cried out loudly. "I had been all a dream, but the thought of it made me feel queer for a part of your old daddy, dear heart, and long time after, anything. Mother will please me more than all else." Edmonds told me that I had slept in my sleep and then groaned. She said, "What I must be very tired indeed."

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

The labors of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt in the interest of woman suffrage that were to bring her to her present post as president of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance and of the National Woman Suffrage Association began in her native state of Iowa in 1890, when Mrs. Catt, then Carrie Lane, affiliated herself with the Iowa Woman Suffrage Association.

MRS. CATT

From 1892 until the present, Mrs. Catt has been in the service of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, serving as president of that organization from 1900 to 1902 and being elected again in 1915. When she attempted to retire from the presidency of the International Alliance at Geneva last June she was re-elected by acclamation.

Mrs. Catt has lectured in nearly every state in this country and nearly every country in Europe. She has been among the most active suffrage workers in the campaign. Here they have already proved successful and resulted in the submission of a woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution. The bill was successfully passed in the house of representatives in May of last year and was approved by the senate the following month.

Mrs. Catt believes that women should have such business or professional training that if necessary they can support themselves. Here are some statements she made in an interview on the subject of women as wage earners:

"If women are equipped to be self-supporting, boys should be taught household duties, so if ever they have to go out to do their work they can do them at home."
"Women without children should work after marriage. The woman who sits idle in a boarding house or furnished room is immoral and a parasite."

BILLY WHISKER

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

The other kids of the block, as I jump landed his head and horns the pretty boys first, though that square in the stomach of his mother. They were having a very nice time, but Farmer Klausen gave a yell, threw up Billy did not like it very well. He took his hands and went back over could run faster, jump higher and head into the dust while Billy, scarp, but harder than any of the other kids, running over him, ran as fast as he of his age and he wanted more room to fight for the hills.

Nearly every day he stopped for a while beside the high fence and looked out through it at the green slopes that ran up to the mountains. The leaves looked so much fresher and more tender there, and the sun so much brighter; besides there were rocky places— he could see them, which would make such fine playgrounds, and jumping places. His mother told mother shook her head when he told her about these things.

"You are too little yet, Billy," she always said. "You are not yet strong enough to be out in the world, alone, even if you could get away from here." "Just wait till I see the hills," Billy would say shaking his head and then he would stammer away in reply to the whiskers of some older kid goat or to romp or play with one of the other youngsters.

He was the most mischievous kid in the block and because of that his mother named him Billy Whisker, after two Farmer Klausen, who owned him, was nearly as good of him as Billy's own mother could be.

"That's the smartest and strongest young goat I've got," he used to brag to his neighbor, Mr. Hans Zou, but Billy all that he kept a sharp eye on Billy and would not allow him to break away from the flock and escape as he sometimes tried to do when they were being driven across the road from one pasture to another.

One day, when Billy was almost a full grown goat, his chance came. At last, Farmer Klausen was standing in the middle of the road to see that some kid away, with his boys were driving the flock over the lower meadows. Billy, who came up with the others, looking as innocent as a goat can look, suddenly wheeled and with a hard charging down the road toward him was fat Hans Zou, with a yoke across his shoulders from which hung two great pots of panned milk, which he was taking down to the chocolate factory in the valley. Slow-witted Hans, when he saw Billy's mother's goat coming away never thought of setting down his pots, nor spread out his arms and stood square in the middle of the road waving his hands and shouting: "Slow! Slow!" It was a big mistake to think that he could scare Billy's goat by saying "Slow!" or by keeping his fat body in the road.

For Billy came straight on with his head down, and just as Hans thought that maybe he had better step to one side, Billy gave a mighty leap and landed Hans in just like he had Farmer Klausen.

STARS TELL ALLEN GOV. COX WILL WIN

Professional astrologers appear to be about equally divided in their predictions as to which candidate will win the presidential election this fall. Theodore Allen, who predicted both elections of Woodrow Wilson, says the stars tell him Cox will win, not only in 1920, but again in 1924.

LUNDY MILLER DROWNS IN TURKEY CREEK

Searching Party Recovers Body; Met Death Shortly After Entering The Water

Lundy Miller, 20, an Everett shoe worker, was drowned Sunday afternoon in Turkey Creek, about five miles west of the city, the body being recovered by a searching party. The cause of the fatality was on the Frank Kuhn farm, south of the creek and at the mouth of Turkey Creek, where Miller was working. Miller, together with John Colburn, 1425 Fifth street, his brother-in-law, Kester Woodrum, 1825 Dighton street, and Joseph Sparks, 1825 Dighton street, were in the creek for a swim, motoring out in Colburn's machine. Miller entered the water about half way across the stream and held his head above water with his left hand; his right arm extended up in the air. His companions thought nothing of it, but when he failed to come up after the third time they noticed that he had made a peculiar noise with his nose, and Sparks swam to him, throwing him a log, and attempted to pull him out of the water. Sparks, Miller was married eleven months ago Sunday to Alice Olin Colburn of this city. They lived on Boundary street. He is survived by his widow, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of Ulysses, Ky., and two brothers and sisters: William Miller, of Ashland, Mrs. Ella Brown of Ashland, and Charles, George, Alta, Walter Colburn, and to the police station, where he called Chief Distel into action, and these three, together with two Times men, rushed to the scene. Chief Distel took command of the party, which was soon joined by Albert Burnheimer, 3835 Stanton avenue, New Boston, and by Clarence

To Install New Front

The contest for remodeling the store room located at 215 Chatham street and which will be occupied by the Tancous system store has been left, and the work will be rushed as fast as possible. Mr. Tancous states that the new store when completed will be one of the very best and most modern stores in the city. A new front will be installed and the entire store room redecorated and furnished with the newest fixtures. While it is impossible to give the definite date for the opening of the new store, Mr. Tancous stated recently that the store would be complete and ready for business on or about September 15th.

THE MOVIES

At the Arcana Today
One of those handy two reel Universal Western features is the chief attraction here today. "Bought and Fought For" is the title of this two reel feature with Margie Lane and Alfred Rogers in the leading roles. Then comes a two-reel Italian comedy, entitled "Moonshine and Jailbirds." This is a regular riot of fun and you cannot help but laugh.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 26.—

Swung from a limb of a stout white oak tree, two miles out of Fayetteville, on the Oak Hill road, William B. Bennett, Jr., twenty-two of Fayetteville, early Sunday morning gave his life in explanation for the murder of his wife and their unborn child.

Spared by the law from the extreme penalty of his deed and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, Bennett was taken from the Fayette county jail by a mob of 100 masked men and carried to a point where there were three cypress trees standing together.

They hanged him from the center tree, stating it is reported, that the trees might serve as a monument to him, his wife and their child that was born alive.

The body was allowed to hang from the tree until it was cut down by authorities some time during the day Sunday. The body was not mutilated. It was taken to the Bennett home.

There was no shouting or cheering of any kind, the mob carrying out its purpose in a very businesslike manner.

The murder of Mrs. Della Taylor Bennett, eighteen, daughter of J. A. Bennett, well known author and newspaper writer, by her going husband, the son of former Judge William B. Bennett of Fayetteville, on June 17, startled Fayette county as it had not been startled in years. Bennett, who was promptly arrested, contended that his wife was a suicide. Public sentiment was aroused against him and the Fayette authorities used all possible precaution in dealing with the case. Last week the state's attorneys agreed to accept a plea of guilty, upon the entering of which Bennett was sentenced to prison for life.

About 11:20 o'clock Saturday night, Judge E. L. Huddleston was accused by four men who called at his home and told him he was wanted at the court house, according to the account of the affair given after his release by the mob. He went with the men, none of whom were masked, but all of whom they were strangers. When they were within the shadow of the court house, he was promptly arrested.

No Chautauqua Next Year

As the matter now stands, there will be no Chautauqua in Portsmouth next year. The Elk Lodge gave the city the privilege of attending it this year, but has decided not to take that responsibility upon itself next year.

The Chautauqua put on a splendid high-class program this season, and church and club folk and the city were not one of them but who would not guarantee it?

WIFE OF RUSS NAVAL ATTACHE ENVIED FOR THE CHIC LITTLE HATS SHE MAKES

Mrs. A. L. Benklevsky wearing one of her home-made hats.

Mrs. Benklevsky, the dainty little wife of the naval attaché of the Russian embassy at Washington, is noted and envied by her woman friends for her chic little hats, which she herself makes. Her husband came to this country some years ago as one of the representatives of the Kerensky government. The fall of Kerensky left the naval attaché stranded in this country without a job, so it is perhaps fortunate for him that his wife has talent as a milliner.

Liberal Offering

One Sunday while at church, there was a special speaker, and the preacher asked for a liberal offering. As the plate was being passed, I grabbed for a dime, the only piece of money I thought I had. I pulled out a penny and deposited it in the plate. It was not until the gentleman next to me smiled that I noticed my error.
